3. Module description

Description	This module follows Translation in Teaching 1 (02-FA-NA-N2PN-TPS-3) module. The main objective of the module is acquiring proficiency in the application of translational techniques in teaching English. Theoretical background concerning translation serves as tool facilitating the exchange of content between educational institutions from different countries. Much attention is paid the translation of formal language and specialist terminology (searching for original texts with translations and their evaluation as far as function and correctness are concerned) so as to actively apply the acquired knowledge participating in the international exchange programmes for students and teachers.
