3. Module description

Description	Students during their teaching practice make systematic and documented observations of various lessons of English, carried out in real classroom setting by in-service teachers. In addition, under supervision of a qualified teacher of English employed at school, students prepare, carry out, discuss and document their own lessons of English. Both parts of the teaching practice allow enable the trainees to learn the principles of teaching and to reflect on the ways of putting into practice the theories, methods and techniques learned by the trainees during all the college courses.
Prerequisites	Passing all the subjects in the teacher training module in the first semester.
